The palm tree as Excellence of the Year for legumes production went to the firm “for being a leading company in the Legumes and Cereals sector. For innovative interventions and ongoing research, from production to the development of customer requests. To promote respectful production methods environment friendly”.

The prize was given by the president of Le Fonti, Guido Giommi, to Fertitecnica Colfiorito represented by Ivano Mattioni (chairman), Luca Mattioni (vice-president) and Alessio Miliani (general manager). “We are proud to receive this important acknowledgment,” said Ivano Mattioni, “Our mission is to provide the consumer high quality products and processes and to spread knowledge of the importance of legumes”.
